More Proof that in 2024 I let Dana
Snelson know I do not mutually

Agree on activities

I have no idea on how to get you to understand this.

You went out and bought Anthony a hockey stick without asking me? Then have the balls to ask me to pay for it.

→ I texted you spoke with you on the phone about my current situation and for some reason you still send me bills for over $1500 in 30days that are not medical or court ordered.

→ The verbiage is "mutually agreed upon". Do you understand what that means? ↙

→ On top of that you are asking me to pay for events and do not have the respect to let me know when they are or invite me to them.

→ I drove 4 hours the other week. Confirmed with you the time at 9am. I was 10 minutes away and you called me to tell me you were leaving.

I would never do that to you.

What do I have to say to you for you to understand?

→ I'm homeless and lost everything I own? I'm living in an rv and hotel rooms trying to get my life back together.

My office is still not finished with repairs. We do not have doors? Really.

You are unbelievable.

I spoke with them and have it in writing they want to go????

Good luck. I'm out of business and homeless. Also, I cannot afford private school and sports right now. So moving forward just send me the medical bills.

I can give you my login to parent web or call the school and have it moved to your account. Let me know what is easier.

All of this can be solved if you give them the iphones back that I purchased for them so I can have a relationship with our kids.

But if you want to spend 5k to 10k on your attorney and months in court to have a judge order you to give them the phones back Go for it.

You will no longer bully me and manipulate our children. I will have a relationship with my kids and they want and need a relationship with their father.

Don't forget to let your attorney you baker acted a 6 year old. Mine knows about it.

About the game.

That's the only day. They will miss practice. You do it all the time. Not to mention you have them miss school without consulting me.

They are going with me that's my day.

Have a great night 😊
Mike

Cant wait. I can go for child support now too then.
You havent spoken to them about it. You bully them into saying what you want.
Its a safety concern.
Their current phones do exactly what the iphones do.

Those games are during Anthonys Storm practices. Is there one not on a Tue or Thur?

Again I do not agree to this and if you want to enroll the kids in Ice Staking and Hockey you will be solely responsible for the expenses.

Thank you

As noted on 11/21/2004

Due to my loss of income and business interest, I no longer can afford to pay for my children's extracurricular activities le competitive figure skating/uniforms for my daughter and travelling hockey/uniforms or private school fees.

Let Dana Snelson know I do not agree on activities.

Attached is the breakdown

I tried calling to explain again that I will be sending over all we legally filed; however, I broke it down in the venmo so you can pay JUST the medical for now.

Hope it makes sense

Thank you
Dana

Dana still sends venmo Requests for the activities that I do not mutually Agree on

I don't want your money anyway.
Keep it. Don't ever pay again. I'm fine without your help.
